Armenian College of Nursing & Health Sciences

Academic Catalog
Academic Year 2025–2026

Catalog Effective Date

Academic Year 2025–2026
Applies to students enrolled on or after September 1, 2025

Institutional Overview

The Armenian College of Nursing & Health Sciences (ACNHS) is a professional institution of higher education dedicated to the preparation of competent, ethical, and practice-ready nurses for contemporary healthcare environments.

Mission

To educate and prepare competent, ethical, and practice-ready nurses who deliver safe, evidence-based, and compassionate care.

Vision

To be a leading nursing education institution recognized for academic rigor, clinical excellence, and global relevance.

Programs of Study

Associate Degree in Nursing (ADN), Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN), and RN Bridge Programs.

Curriculum Structure

System-based curriculum integrating cardiovascular, respiratory, neurological, pharmacology, medical-surgical, pediatrics, mental health, and critical care nursing.

Clinical Education

Clinical education includes supervised experiences in hospitals, community health settings, and high-fidelity simulation labs.

Grading System

Numeric Range	Letter Grade	Description
90–100	A	Excellent
80–89	B	Good
70–79	C	Satisfactory
Below 70	F	Failing

Students must achieve a minimum passing grade in all required nursing courses. Certain courses and clinical components may require a higher minimum grade as specified by program requirements.

Regulatory Disclaimer

Licensure eligibility is determined by the applicable nursing regulatory authority. Completion of a program does not guarantee licensure.